BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

Key federal laws prohibit discrimination against persons with disabilities. The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Titles I and II prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability; this legislation established comprehensive standards that were expanded per 2008 Amendments. The Rehabilitation Act of 1972, Section 504 prohibits discrimination against any person on the basis of a “handicap” by entities receiving federal funds. Disability discrimination is also prohibited under federal The Fair Housing Act as well as state laws and regulations including Maryland’s Fair Employment Practices Act, Educational Equity Authority \(COMAR\), and state commissions for disabilities and civil rights. These legal requirements are enforced by both federal and state agencies including the United States Department of Education’s Office of Civil Rights, Department of Justice, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Maryland Department of Education, Maryland Higher Education Commission, and Maryland Equal Employment Opportunity Agency.

Non-Discrimination Statement as Required by Federal Directive effective 2/28/25

Allegany College of Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of federally protected classes of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, disability, and veteran/military status in matters affecting employment or in providing access to programs and activities. Allegany College of Maryland recognizes and complies with additional protections for employees and/or pursuant to state law.

Allegany College of Maryland is a public institution of higher education that has both policy and tradition to prohibit discrimination on the basis of a disability, to provide services and/or accommodations to persons with disabilities, and to provide facilities accessible to persons with disabilities. Since the adoption of the federal Americans with Disabilities Act, the Rehabilitation Act (Section 504) and their accompanying regulations, multiple ACM operational units and personnel have had responsibility and practices for meeting these needs. This policy is intended to create compliance framework and guiding rules so disabled persons may safely and completely enjoy the College’s educational offerings, support services, recreational opportunities, technology, and facilities.
