▶ IN ITS EFFORT TO ASSIST MORE STUDENTS, the Allegany College of Maryland Foundation will limit the number of Foundation scholarships awarded to a student in an academic year to three or a total value of $2,500. However, this does not mean that the most a student can receive is $2,500. See examples below. Federal financial aid such as Pell Grants and Maryland State Scholarships are additional ways to obtain financial assistance and will not be used to limit a student from receiving Foundation awards. Scholastic Excellence Scholarships and Presidential Scholarships, however, will count toward the three-scholarship limit.

Examples are as follows:

1. If a student receives one scholarship for $2,000 and another for $750, the student's total award is $2,750. The student, therefore, is ineligible to receive any more scholarships for the academic year as the student reached the dollar limit.

2. If a student receives one scholarship for $1,000 and one for $750 and another for $500, the student's total award is $2,250. The student is ineligible to receive another scholarship for the academic year as the three scholarship limit has been reached.

Note: Additional exceptions may apply as approved by the ACM Foundation Board of Directors.
